I have done 2 Himalayan treks with ibex hikes and enjoyed a lot. I went alone with the group and returned back with lot of friends and memories. Trek with ibex hikes is the best choice if you are going for your first Himalayan Trek. Team members take care a lot and you will never feel left out. You will also not feel like coming back home.

Had a pretty good time trekking. I learnt many new things including information about how to walk on snow. The trek helped to make some new friends and learn how to socially communicate. All the Best for all who are looking forward to go with IBEX HIKES.

I highly recommend Ibex n Hikes due to many reasons. One of them is cost-effective with uttermost care taken by the team leaders before and during the trek. Practise treks and complete guidance regarding do s and don't s of the trek. Anyone who has been to treks through ibex n Hikes will always to go them for future treks as they are most reliable and trusted group.

After the 10th exam I do my first trek with Ibex Hikes. It was a very good experience in itself. The mentor of our group is very caring in nature. He shows the every spot in trek with giving information. Security and all other things well followed. I suggest people to have a trek with Ibex Hikes. You will feel like home with these people in the whole trek, my personal experience says this.

Team Ibex is very reliable , safe and well experienced in their work. They have been exploring Himalayas for quite long. Hence, have created very good rapport and bonding with locals in Manali and other parts of the valley. I have had memorable experiences with this team. One thing I cant stress enough that team ibex's strongest aspect is planning and backup plan to deal with any unwanted scenario to occur. I highly recommend any one who wants to embark upon Himalayan journey with reasonable price but high comfort. Mountains are calling Guys! And you must go.. !

I did two hikes with Ibex hikes in Himalayas..both were super fun. We climbed at a pace which was comfortable and yet challenging. We were always provided appropriate lunch, dry fruits and energy drinks to keep up the energy. The trek leaders passed on the knowledge about the area we were climbing. We also played games at the campsites. One trek I did was Khempri tibba, which was a virgin trek and it felt good to explore the unexplored.

Excellent team of passionate trekkers conducting various Himalayan treks. Most importantly their first motive is to introduce trekking to the participants. Apart from trekking one may get important knowledge about various component of nature (Mountains, flora & fauna, animals & insects etc.) from the coordinators. I am really thankful to this wonderful team for introducing me to a life changing world of Trekking!

Ibex Hikes has made both of my Himalayan treks memorable. Starting from the on time railway reservations, awesome songs, very interactive leaders, both Ani dada and Vasudha are brilliant in all ways. The memories from Both of my treks with ibex are my sources of freshness whenever I feel down. In fact their risk management is also credible. One of our group members started suffering with stomach problem. This is a big NO in Himalayas that too on such high altitude. But one of the leader trekked down 5000 ft in single day just to take that member to hospital. There is always an environment of safety when you are trekking with Ibex Hikes.

Trekking with ibex hikes is like traveling with family. They always be with you, laugh with you, support you, motivate you and take you till the summit. I was with ibex on Sikkim (Dzongri Trek) and it became a journey of life time. Strangers became friends and we didn't end up after making a What's app group. Dzongri is an amazing place, however big and heavy word you choose to define it , you cannot. Like John Green said "It demands to be felt". We all went for the trek with our worries and doubts but after three days of trekking, on 14000 feet, above layers of clouds, a bit low oxygen level, in chilling weather, you feel every breath of yours, you feel yourself. The changing colour of snow in sunlight on Kanchenjunga ranges, the walk in dense forest, clear sky full of stars, sleeping in tents, sound of birds, company of awesome mates and many other small-small things made the journey an experience. In all those days I was not having any thought of my office or project or relations, I was enjoying nature's company and it was mesmerizing. Facilities provided by ibex was comforting and best possible on that location. Speaking about our leader and coach and mentor and guru Ani dada, he is not only an experienced trekker but also a true motivator for first timers like me. Thanks Ani dada and team ibex. I will try and join again whenever my oxygen level ends up.

It was my second trek, the first to Roopkund a disappointment due to weather.

I came to know about ibex hikes Dzongri trek through a friend and was excited about a cold season but clear weather trek. It was my first with ibex hikes. The anxiety about the stay arrangements and equipment melted out on the first day itself after a cozy hotel stay in Yoksom and proper instructions and briefings from our trek leader Aniruddha Jadhav. As the trek progressed the support staff of locals and our guide made our stay more comfortable each day so much so we grouped as a team and were left enjoying every moment in the Himalayas. Needless to say each member of the trek was carefully encouraged and looked after all along and everybody had only one mission, to complete the trek successfully. we summited at Dzungri top successfully despite having a few doubts. A lasting memory for me, i will definitely be on the next outing with them.

Extraordinary, yeah that's one word that defines my experience with IBEX hikes. To begin with, there are hell lot of preparations required specially when one's going for the first time. Be it practice, gear selection, things to be carried, planning; Ibex helped us with every single detail. The services provided were unparalleled which went beyond my expectations. Every aspect right from our guide to lodging & from transportation to our logistic support everything was catered to in a professional manner that garners trust and respect. A loud shout of appreciation for making the female members feel safe and secured.

The mountains and scenery were breathtaking. The highlight was definitely trekking up the river side, walking in the lush green jungles, snowy mountains and definitely our campsites. An Eye-opener was how fresh and delicious food can be prepared with a handful of supplies. In conclusion would like to heartily thank Aniruddha for such an amazing experience.

It has been almost a year I am connected with Ibex, I do all local trek with them, but the trek in Himalaya (Dzungri – Sikkim) was so much special and memorable for lifetime. Your safety, your health, your appetite and overall you are assured with Ibex hikes. The journey was great and I was very happy to fulfill one of my dream of my wishlist, that team Ibex made very easy and comfortable for me. And Specially I would like to thank Aniruddha for all the efforts he always put to make us comfortable and make things so easy going, many things one can learn from him, he was the true guardian of us all during trek. Ibex is like a family for us and always will be. I would highly recommend you all new comers to plan with Ibex only you will not be disappointed, That's My Promise!

My dream of trekking in the Himalayas has recently become true with Ibex hikes. The organization is so professional and experienced in the field of hiking that I could dared to climb 13500feet (without any prior trekking experience). The constant motivation to trekkers is the key factor which makes Ibex hikes an unique trekking organization.

Thanks a lot for the wonderful memories and I look forward to climb again next time with you guys!!!

I have been trekking with IBEX Hikes since 2015. My first trek was the Har ki dun valley and after that went to several local treks around Nashik. My experience with IBEX Hikes has been really great. Aniruddha dada and Vasudha tai are really passionate about trekking and with them not only we enjoy the trekking experience but also knowledge is shared about nature, various animals and birds. My association with IBEX Hikes since 4 years has really been a good experience and I continue to look forward to enjoy more treks with this team.
